

For Release...September 1, 2002

FreeStone Software and CyberSoft Execute Agreement

FreeStone Software, Inc. (FSI) of Denver and CyberSoft International today announced the execution of an agreement under which FSI will become an Authorized Distributor of CyberSoft products. The agreement initially identifies CyberSoft's SafeInternetEmail filtering software but is open to include other products that may be developed by CyberSoft.

SafeInternetEmail (SIE) is CyberSoft's anti-virus and anti-spam filtering solution for electronic mail communications. It incorporates CyberSoft's widely used VFind heterogeneous pattern analysis engine as well as other proprietary CyberSoft Threat Detection technologies to screen for viruses, spam, malicious file types, harassing language and other threats to secure email communications. The technologies integrated in SIE have been widely used by the US Department of Defense and numerous Federal security agencies for over a decade in similar applications. SIE has only recently been made available to commercial markets.

Under terms of the agreement FSI and CyberSoft will collaborate in the development of a new version of SIE, SIE SP for Service Providers, to meet the unique needs of the Internet Service Provider and CATV / MSO High Speed Access markets and to include such capabilities as subscriber control of filtering policies. No date has been set for the release of SIE SP.

About FreeStone

FreeStone Software, Inc. is an ISV and distributor of server-based filtering solutions for the internet. Founded in January, 2002, FSI's initial offering was ContentKEEPER™, a product of ContentKeeper Technologies of Canberra, Australia. ContentKEEPER™ allows organizations to monitor, manage and control inappropriate internet use as well as bandwidth utilization. FSI offers filtering solutions that support a safer, less frustrating, more wholesome internet experience for all markets. For additional information contact FSI in Denver at 303-398-7016.

About CyberSoft International

CyberSoft International is a division of CyberSoft Operating Corporation, a subsidiary of CyberSoft, Inc., a computer security firm which has been providing security solutions to the US Federal Government for over a decade. CyberSoft International was formed to commercialize CyberSoft technologies previously available only to government markets worldwide. For additional information contact CyberSoft International in Milwaukee at 262-781-0462.